

The N.O.R.M. Project

North Coast Regional Council of Park Districts

GIS, Project Management Website, & On-line Mapping

URS was hired to map and make information widely available for a 4 county wide Park District consortium, the North Coast Regional Council of Park Districts (NCRCPD).

The URS team built a custom project management web site & on-line mapping program that granted the districts access to the mapping and other public information from the internet, hosted by URS, and then upon final approval of content, published upon park district equipment.

Users of the published web site have the ability, in a user friendly format, to query information, control views of information which they are examining, print to scale & view relationships of upstream land use and downstream water quality.

www.ncrcpd.com

URS also built a secure area of the website for park district staff to query sensitive information. After logging in, members of the consortium can access this sensitive mapping information over the web.

